Petroleum has been known in [illegible] is known for the production of [illegible] In the United States the oil [illegible] are probably mainly in the cavities of [illegible] strata, and not diffused between [illegible] found in Western Virginia, Northwestern New York, Ohio, Central Kentucky, Michigan and Canada. The richest wells thus far have been discovered in Pennsylvania, but there is nothing to prevent the same being found by many other [illegible]

The increase of production [illegible] Creek, Pa., [illegible] is estimated at [illegible]. It was worth about one dollar an acre five years ago. Farms valued at [illegible] formerly have been purchased at prices varying from [illegible] 000.

There are now over 250 companies working for oil and representing a capital of [illegible]. The following are the exports of petroleum from the United States in 1862.	1863.	1864.

	Gallons.	Gallons.	Gallons.
From New York	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
From Boston	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
From Philadelphia	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
From Baltimore	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
From Portland	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Grand total export	10,887,701	[illegible]	[illegible]

It is doubtful if the production of [illegible] will so much surpass 1863 as might be expected, on account of the immense speculation going on in the interest of and for the purpose. The excitement has reached a point at which it is unhealthy for the prosperity of the business itself, and production is diminished by speculation.

How long our oil wells will last, is of course a most vital question to our business community. Neither science nor practical skill can answer it. The Burmah wells in India have lasted for ages. But whether our own wells are soon to be drained, or whether the supply is to be like that of our coal, practically illimitable, is uncertain. The indications in the failure of various springs, and the geological condition of the coal strata make it probable that our supply may greatly diminish in a few years.

The production of the past year, no doubt worth $30,000,000 to the country, is a great help to our wasted resources.

One other discovery science indicates as being yet in store for us, which shall add vastly to the wealth of the nation. That is, the unlocking the vast supplies of illuminating gas which lie closed up somewhere to the east of the great coal fields of America. Then will the land be supplied with such cheap means of illumination that petroleum will be no longer needed to the same degree, and will be exported in still greater quantities.

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 11, 1865.

Jefferson Davis.

Jeff. Davis proves to be a failure. It is wonderful with what tenacity of purpose he pursued his favorite idea of secession, until it became an accomplished fact so far as State action could effect it; wonderful how he has managed to hold to his insane purpose a great people, who in obedience to his suggestion madly plunged into a career that was virtually suicide and has found its end in defeat. The fact of his individual power is not to be denied. It would be folly to deny him the possession of uncommon qualities, or to argue that his was not one of the great minds of the age. With all that granted, he is still a failure, for he entertained impossible ideas and undertook a revolution ending in miserable failure. Combining the politician with the military habits of the soldier, he never rose to the dignity of great statesmanship, which as proved in other words, for he entertained an overweening confidence in himself and in his section, while he as constantly and excessively undervalued the section of the nation that he had trained himself to believe incapable of resistance to Southern power. Bred a slaveholder and an aristocrat, he contemned and despised the men at the North who labored, and with the lapse of years the selfish theories that Calhoun enunciated, were adopted and promulgated by him, until he became the apostle of secession and revolution; blindly following a path that led to ruin, from the simple fact that he had no appreciation of his countrymen as a class, no identity with their interests and no faith that labor was the nursing mother of true chivalry.

Davis was a man of one idea, and we must accord him some honesty of faith to reconcile the facts of his life. Like too many other Southern politicians who were not statesmen because their policy was too narrow to embrace a nation in one thought, he aimed only to carry out some scheme to aggrandize slavery; and reasoning, laboring, planning and fighting blindly for that result, he and all his associates in every point where ambition aimed have failed. Had their ideas taken a broader scope, and comprehended the fact that the true greatness of the American people lay in freedom, they might to-day have been living upon their plantations in wealth and happiness, instead of being counted as the men who took up arms against the civilization of the world; involved a nation for years in fratricidal war, and dragged down their deluded adherents to utter ruin.

In no section of our nation but the South could such a man as Davis have been developed, and nowhere else could the unnatural and impossible ideas of secession have found so many followers. From Davis down to the meanest clay eater, the majority of the people of the cotton States entertained supreme self-confidence; but that self-confidence is wrecked, and to-day, with all the changes that have occurred—despite all the loss and carnage—there is more possibility that a perfect harmony of sentiment can develop through the land than before. The lesson taught the South is, that they have been misled. They, too, pronounce Davis a failure, and the school of experience may not have been too dearly bought for all, if it has annihilated the boastful spirit of each section and left us in fact and spirit one people, truly illustrating our national motto—E Pluribus Unum.

State Agricultural Society.—The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of this Society was held at Salem last week, pursuant to announcement. The Board remained in session during Tuesday and Wednesday. The business transacted was in reference to the coming State Fair, which is to begin on Tuesday, October 3d, 1865. The number and variety of the premiums to be awarded was greatly increased, and the amounts were in many cases, particularly in connection with farm products and domestic agriculture and other manufactures, made double the award of previous years. In a few days an address to be issued by the Board to the people, will be published, relating to all the matters of the coming Fair. More stringent rules for the conduct of the Fair have been adopted and will be faithfully executed. In about forty days these rules, with the premium list decided on and the programme for the Fair of 1865, will be published and generally circulated. The premium list for 1864 will be distributed through the counties south of Marion by Judge Thornton, of Albany, and for Marion county, by Judge Peebles, of Salem. Copies of the same will be left with Mr. Fleming, at Oregon City; at Dallas, in Polk county; at Lafayette, in Yamhill county; at Hillsboro and Forest Grove, in Washington county; and for the remaining counties north, with Mr. Waite, at the Farmer office, Portland. Diplomas will at once be forwarded by the Corresponding Secretary to the proper parties.

Grant and Sherman.—The following, which is beautifully illustrative of the character of General Grant, is taken from the Washington correspondence of the S. F. Bulletin:

> The modesty of a great man, and the kind-heartedness of a brave one beams delightfully from this extract. Gen. Grant, however, sees Sherman's merit in quite as bright a light as does the press. When before the Committee on the Conduct of the War, a few days ago, Grant told them Sherman was the greatest military genius of the age, and that Congress ought to confer upon him the highest rank at its command. When it was suggested that to give him any new and superior rank to that of Lieutenant-General, would make him Grant's commander, the latter declared he would serve under him with the greatest pleasure and satisfaction.

How can we help but win battles with a General-in-Chief who knows how to plan them, and with Generals to execute his commands? While the great quartette of our commanders know no thought of jealousy one toward another.

From the Upper Country.—A soldier of the Dalles named Cook seems to have been guilty of appropriating a new suit belonging to a discharged soldier, and has been arrested.

Prof. Carey sent a balloon up at the "Union Celebration" a few evenings ago, and was to do something of the kind at the [illegible] evening.

Lieut. Wood, with thirty five soldiers, went to Willow Creek above the Dalles to arrest Quinama, the chief of the Warm Spring Indians, who has always been plotting evil, and is supposed to be trying now to hatch a conspiracy. As he was gone to Simcoe the Lieutenant did not find him. They found a large camp of Indians supposed to be delegates to a war council. Only one of the three principal malcontents was found, he was arrested.—So says the Mountaineer.

Erratum.—We did not intend to say, in yesterday's issue that the snow on the Lewiston route blockaded the road and stopped the stages. What Col. Ruckel told us was that about the 15th of March heavy rains raised the streams and rendered the trail impassable for stages for several days.

A sad affair happened [illegible] resulting in the death of [illegible] Kane. [illegible] worked during the winter for [illegible] services, but with a promise of [illegible] Spring. After waiting for his pay [illegible] time, he finally received his pay in greenbacks at par. Kane, it seems, had [illegible] most rigid [illegible] and want of judgment to manage had never been able to get together [illegible] so set a great store by [illegible] greenbacks [illegible] sense and [illegible] Kane [illegible] "I have worked [illegible] in greenbacks [illegible]" [illegible] in the flume and [illegible] Kane fired [illegible] taken from the flume, after passing down [illegible] some lumber, and all [illegible] turned to Mr. Sharp [illegible] Sharp, and handing him [illegible] Coroner's Jury was to the effect [illegible] to his death at the hands of Kane. Cotton Items.—The project of erecting a Woolen Factory is being agitated [illegible]. A public meeting is proposed [illegible] Saturday, April 15th, to consider the subject more fully.

A very handsome [illegible] house is being built at Albany in Linn county [illegible] and it is claimed that it will be the finest building in "Oregon"—perhaps, [illegible] but we are well [illegible] the Linn county [illegible].

Mr. Robert [illegible] Valley, was killed [illegible] by the falling of a tree he was felling. The trunk was thrown upward [illegible] descent struck him on the shoulder causing instant death. He leaves a widow and large family to mourn his loss.

Quite a controversy is going on in Jackson county, between [illegible] and the possessors of the press and material on which the Reporter [illegible] printed, to decide who is the [illegible]. The case will [illegible] the courts [illegible].

At the Eugene city election [illegible] week [illegible] J. B. Underwood was elected President of the Council and Messrs. McCarty, [illegible], Hendricks, Bloomfield, Osborn and Gilbert Councilmen. William H. Smith, Recorder; [illegible], Treasurer; C. H. Fox, Marshal.

A company has been incorporated for the purpose of building a Woolen Factory at Springfield, in Lane county. The articles of incorporation have been filed.

Efforts are making by the towns up the Willamette to secure subscriptions to the stock of the company who design building a canal around the falls at Oregon City.

The Price of Cotton.—As the consequence of the downfall of the rebellion, we may anticipate speedily a reduction in the price of cotton goods. During the past four years [illegible] the American war, [illegible] branch of industry, [illegible] year being about one quarter of the amount produced in the Southern States before the war. No doubt there is an immense amount of [illegible] in the Southern States [illegible] the Southern people have the good sense [illegible] by stopping the war, they may [illegible] possession of the [illegible] which will at a fair price, [illegible] hundred millions [illegible] the Southern people [illegible] business. [illegible] a committee of Arrangements [illegible] the procession [illegible] Jackson Engine [illegible] Band, [illegible] City Council, Fire Company [illegible] Washington street [illegible] Hall, where [illegible] by Judge Wilson, [illegible] other speakers.

A BEREAVED FAMILY.—The death of Willie H. Campbell, at the residence of his mother Harriet B. Campbell, in this city, yesterday afternoon, [illegible] Willie was a lovely little fellow, who had many friends who grieve for his loss, and sympathize with his bereaved mother and sisters, in this their second affliction within a few short months. Mrs. Campbell is the widow of the late Hamilton Campbell, well known in Oregon from an early day, and whose death in Missouri occurred some time since under such melancholy circumstances. Her eldest son was accidentally shot while [illegible] on the river last fall, and all feel a deep sympathy for her in her losses. The funeral services will be held at the house to-day, at 1 o'clock.

WILL LOAD AT OAK POINT.—The bark [illegible], now discharging at [illegible] Wharf, we are informed by the Master, will take at least a portion of her cargo from the Oak Point Mills, on Columbia river. It may be considered an indication that the exports of produce, which have been so active for many months, is becoming less by degrees. Oregon, it is pretty certain, has not any cargoes of flour and wheat to spare from their own supply, at the present time. In conversation with a prominent shipper yesterday, he remarked to us that he expected to send wheat to Oregon from California, before the idea of September.

CIRCUIT COURT.—A special term of the Circuit Court for the County of Multnomah, will convene on the second Monday in May—the 8th prox.—[illegible] transaction of important business connected with actions at the late term, and arrange preliminaries for the regular term in June. The work of the Circuit Court is very pressing [illegible] but if the Attorneys are as [illegible] Court [illegible] no very great trouble need be expected.

ACCIDENT IN EAST PORTLAND.—Yesterday a little daughter of Captain John Kerns, living in East Portland, met with a very serious accident, by falling through the plank of the bridge leading south from the Base Line road. The planks on the structure are [illegible] and have slipped by the timbers [illegible] portions of which the child was standing, when it gave way and fell through with her. The bridge should be properly repaired and we direct the attention of the road district Supervisor to it.

HAY FOR CALIFORNIA.—The vessel leaving last evening took away forty bales of Oregon Hay, which is the second shipment of that article in 1865. It is not so valuable to the shipper, however, as when, in 1862, Oregonians were paying $140 per ton for a [illegible] what we are now sending them. At last advices from San Francisco hay was worth from $28 to $32 per ton, according to the grade.

SANITARY CONTRIBUTIONS.—The ladies of the Sanitary Aid Society request us to acknowledge the sum of $721 [illegible] coin and $152 in currency, as the amount collected by them on the 6th and 7th instant, in sums of 50 cents to $5, among our patriotic citizens for our brave soldiers. The above amount was immediately forwarded to New York by telegraph, at an expense of $20.

FUNERAL OF MR. BUTTLER.—Our German citizens, friends of the late Mr. Buttler, turned out in large numbers yesterday, to pay their last respects to deceased. The procession from his residence to the cemetery was preceded by the German Band, playing the funeral dirge. Mr. B. was an old resident of Portland, and the numerous attendance at the exercises of yesterday showed that he was greatly respected in life.

[illegible] BETHANY.—Mr. J. E. Gibson writes from Bethany, on the 7th, as follows: Nearly four years ago the citizens of this vicinity erected a liberty pole from which, from time to time, the glorious old stars and stripes have been raised [illegible] but never in the four years has the flag been run up with such enthusiasm as it was to-day, upon the reception of the news of the full confirmation of the downfall of Richmond. God bless the brave defenders of our glorious old Republic.

FROM ASTORIA.—By pilots Gilman and Johnson we learn that the people of Astoria celebrated with becoming [illegible], the downfall of Richmond—every man, woman and child mingling in the great rejoicing, by action or [illegible], which speaks immensely for the loyalty of the [illegible] town of the coast.

A LARGE PACK TRAIN.—The annual migrations of mules toward the mining regions seemed to have fully commenced yesterday. A very large number of mules, constituting one pack train, passed the streets yesterday. Several ox teams, of seven and eight yokes each, were also in the city last evening, en route to the region lying east of the Cascade range of Mountains.

APPOINTMENT OF CORONER.—The Commissioners of the County Court last week appointed Dr. W. N. Griswold Coroner, vice Dr. A. W. Micklin resigned. Dr. G. is a graduate of the old school, but is now practicing the homeopathic system. He has been very successful as a physician and surgeon in our midst.

THE CASE OF THE PACIFIC.—In the United States District Court yesterday, Judge Deady presiding, the case of the [illegible] opium seizure, involving the steamship Pacific, was being tried. The vessel did not take her departure last night, but will leave to-day.

UNION CANVASS AT WALLA WALLA.—We learn from H. Parker, Esq., that Hon. Edward Evans and S. Garfield will canvass Walla Walla and other counties east of the Cascades for the Union Candidate for Delegate to Congress, A. A. Denny, Esq., in a few days.

A UNFORTUNATE MAN.—A man in the worst stages of insanity, apparently, was taken to the Insane Asylum of the State at East Portland yesterday. We did not learn his name, but understand he was from Wasco county. Friends accompanied him to the Asylum.

A PENITENTIARY [illegible].—Sheriff [illegible] brought to our city on Saturday night, from the Dalles, a half breed named Charles D. Gurley, who escaped from the Penitentiary about two years since. He formed into line and did a day's work for the State yesterday.

CHRISTIAN COMMISSION.—[illegible] address to the citizens of Portland, in behalf of the Ladies' Christian Commission, will be delivered at the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening at [illegible] [illegible] will appear to-morrow.

FOR SALEM.—The steamer Enterprise will connect with the Senator on Wednesday morning, and go through to Salem that evening.

NOTHING LATER.—The line was down last evening between Oakland and Eugene City, hence we have nothing later from the East.

SAILED.—The bark [illegible] cleared for [illegible] yesterday, and will sail for San Francisco to-morrow.

STEAM, SULPHUR, VAPOR BATHS.—For the Cure of COUGHS, COLDS, RHEUMATISM and MERCURIAL AFFECTIONS. The attention of sufferers from Colds is directed to these Baths, as one or two will remove the Severest Cold. Also,

WISTAR'S BALSAM
OF
HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY HALF A CENTURY,
WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING
Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every affection of the THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST, INCLUDING EVEN CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known, so great is the good it has performed and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value tenfold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unparalleled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

S. H. Tinsley, M. D., San Francisco, Cal.
E. Boyden, M. D., Exeter, Me.
Alexander Hatch, M. D., China, Me.
R. Fellows, M. D., Hill, N. H.
W. H. Webb, M. D., Cape Vincent, N. Y.
W. B. Lynch, M. D., Auburn, N. Y.
Abraham Skillman, M. D., Bound Brook, N. J.
H. D. Martin, M. D., Mansfield, Pa.

The proprietors have letters from all classes of our fellow citizens, from the halls of Congress to the humblest cottage, and even from beyond the seas, for the fame and virtue of Wistar's Balsam have extended to the uttermost bounds of the earth, without any attempt on our part to introduce it beyond the limits of our own country.

TO CALIFORNIANS AND OREGONIANS.

After October 1, 1862, all genuine WISTAR'S BALSAM of WILD CHERRY for the Pacific Coast will be enclosed in a new wrapper bearing, with the fac simile [illegible] names of SETH W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, Mass., and JOHN D. PARK, Cincinnati, Ohio, as also the signature of [illegible] BURNETT, [illegible] & PARK, and H. WISTAR, M. D.

WARD ON HIS TRAVELS.—The following are some paragraphs from Artemus Ward's last letter from Boston:

HARVARD COLLEGE.

This celebrated instooshun of learnin' is pleasantly situated in the Bar-room of Parker's in School street, and has poopils from all over the country.

I had a letter, yesterd'y, by the way, from our mootual son, Artemus Jr., who is at Bowdoin College in Maine. He writes that he's a Bowdoin Arab. & is it come to this? Is this boy, as I nurtured with a Parent's care in his childhood's hour goin' to be a Great American humorist?" Alas! I fear it is too true. Why didn't I bind him out to the Patent Travelin' Vegetable Pill man as was struck with his appearance at our last County Fair, & wanted him to go with him and be a Pill Boy? Ar, those Boys—they little know how the old folks worrit about them. But my father he never had no occasion to worrit about me. You know Betsey, that when I first commenced my career as a moral exhibitor with a six-legged cat and a brass drum, I was only a stripling of—summer 15. Summers had flow'd over my youthful head. But I had some mind of my own. My father understood this. "Go," he said—"go, my son, and hog the public!" (he meant "beguile 'em," but the old man was allus a little given to slang.) He put his withered hand tremblingly upon my head; and went sadly into the house. I thought I saw tears trickling down his venerable chin, but it might have been tobacker jooce. He chaw'd.

LITERATOOR.

The Atlantic Monthly, Betsey, is a reg'lar visitor to our westun home. I like it because it has got sense. It don't print stories with pirut fellers and the honest young men disgrace ... the pirats so that our darters very nat'rally prefer the pirats to the honest young idiots; but it gives us good square American literature. The chaps that write for the Atlantic, Betsey, understand their bisness. they can sling ink, they can. I went in and saw 'em. I told 'em that theirs was a high and holy mission. They seemed quite gratified, and asked if I had seen the Grate Organ.

STEWART, THE MERCHANT MILLIONAIRE.—He has many partners, but they are only partners in profits. He is the sole master of all that is bought and sold. He knows every article that comes in or goes out of the store. No bundle leaves without a check. He selected a shawl for his wife one day, and neglecting to check it, it could not leave the building. No merchant in New York works so many hours or gives such undivided attention to his business. His rooms are in his down town store. He comes down early, takes his dinner about five o'clock, returns and remains at his work till late at night. He finds his pleasure in his business. He is as difficult to approach as the Grand Lama. Go to the store and you will be met at the door by a courteous gentleman, once an affluent merchant who kept his own establishment. To your question if Mr. Stewart is in? a response comes, "What is your business?" "I want to see Mr. Stewart." "You can't see him unless I know your business." It is private you say. "Mr. Stewart has no private business; I must know what you want, sir." If your statement is satisfactory, you are allowed to pass up stairs. Here you are met by another hand, but portly gentlemen, once a judge of one of our courts, now the confidential business agent and companion of Mr. Stewart, to whom he devotes all his time. He subjects you to a series of cross questions as rigorous as if you were on the witness stand at court. He keeps you from Stewart if he can. If he can't, when your turn comes, he ushers you into a little box, ten by twenty, where sits the autocrat of the New York merchants. He receives you with a blank countenance and a cold eye. His voice is suppressed, his face inanimate, and his air impatient. You hurry through your business and need a strong temptation to induce you to run the gauntlet again.

A REMARKABLE PROPHECY.—Not long ago was found at Toledo, in Spain, in a monastery a paper containing the following prophecy: "In the far west, beyond the ocean, will rise a great nation, which will be great in power and wealth; and Satan, in one of his walks to and fro on the earth, will observe this nation, and, determined to destroy their happiness, will there send two monsters, one to the North and the South, and he will give them strawberries, and they will eat them; and after they have eaten, they will feel a great thirst, not to be quenched with anything else but blood. They will, therefore, cause the brother to slay the brother, the father to slay the son, and the son the father; and they will drink the blood of the slain, and it will bring lamentation and wailing throughout the land. And when the time is fulfilled, there will rise a strong man in the North, who will take the monsters and bind them and draw them into the sea, where it is the deepest, and peace and happiness will prevail throughout, and the people will praise the Lord."

Philadelphia papers speak of the death of "Crazy Norah," a woman who seems to have been a notable character in the city for many years. She lost her reason in 1821, when the Catholic church, which she attended, was taken possession of by a body of United States marines, in consequence of a feud and riot between her parish and one adjoining. The curious part of her history is, that she was often employed as a very successful collector of very bad debts. Attired in her usual outre costume—she wore a man's hat with a cock's feather stuck in the top, a man's long boots, and a curious plaid cloak—she would visit the unfortunate debtor's quarters, and if she was refused pay, would presently appear on his door step and harangue the rabble, which speedily collected, on the subject of the debt, with frequent invocations of the saints and her grandmother, whom she strangely mixed together. Generally not many visits of this kind were needed.

Abstract from Examining Committee's Report of the San Francisco "MECHANICS' INSTITUTE" INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION, OF 1864:

"CLOTHES WRINGERS.—A variety of these Machines ... competing for popular favor. Though none of them are entitled to a Premium, we consider the EUREKA, exhibited by M. E. Traver ... worthy of honorable mention." (NOTE—No Premiums were awarded to any class of Eastern Machines.)

The EUREKA CLOTHES WRINGERS are made ... CONVENIENCE and DURABILITY ...

PATENT ELLIPTICAL STEEL SPRINGS,

Which produce a UNIFORM PRESSURE upon garments ... of every size.

The IMPROVED EUREKA has the HINGE CLAMP, which fits any Wash Box perfectly. Its entire construction ... excellent. Every Family should have one. It will soon RE-PAY ITS COST IN SAVING Time, Labor and Clothes.

BY VIRTUE of an execution issued out of the Circuit Court, of the State of Oregon, for the county of Multnomah, and to me directed, upon a decree by said Court rendered in a suit for the ... of a mechanic's lien, wherein Estes and Stimpson are plaintiffs, and J. M. Geo. Kallich is defendant, and wherein A. M. Starr and L. J. Davenport intervened for their interest, and in which said judgment and decree was rendered in favor of said plaintiffs and against said defendant, J. M. George Kallich, for the sum of $326 40 and for costs and disbursements in the sum of $46 35, and the same was determined and adjudged by said Court to be a valid lien upon the following described property, and that the claims of said Starr, Davenport and Horning, were void so far as plaintiffs claim is concerned.

I will expose to public sale at auction, at the Court House door, on Friday, the 21st day of April, A. D. 1865, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 4 o'clock P. M., the following described property, to satisfy said lien: A house upon the east corner of lot eight (8), in block number five ... in the city of Portland, Multnomah county, Oregon, and all the interest which the said J. M. George Kallich has therein as the lessee of the same. JACOB STITZEL,
